Monday Morning Notes from Bishop Hyed

Happy Monday!

It's annual meeting season for many congregations across our Diocese.

Annual meetings invite the whole community, present visions for mission, consider budgets, and elect vestries. It's official business. Our annual meetings show the shared governance within our congregations.

The time can also be fun— sharing favorite food and great stories about congregational life.

These meetings represent an important moment and there can be regular opportunities to communicate and engage within our congregations throughout the year.

- What's the story of your congregation's mission right now? As a diocese, we're telling the story of renewal and healing that we experience in congregations, chaplaincies, and schools. Whom are you welcoming? Who are your ministries reaching over seven days?
- How are you regularly sharing information about what's happening? I began sending this weekly Monday note fifteen years ago to the communities that I've served. It's meant to be a regular, patterned connection. You'll know best what the pattern might be to keep your community connected through the year.

Share your annual meeting stories and pictures! Send the dreams for your congregations that you discussed! Tell what food you served!

It's wonderful to share in important moments in the life of our congregations.
